Shutters used in UK office furniture tend to be PVC. Waivis are able to offer an extensive range of finishes including traditional plain colours as well as translucent, metallic and wood effect tambours produced using state of the art printing technology.

For those looking for an environmental alternative, particularly export markets, Waivis are able to offer the same range of finishes as in PVC, but in PP.

Waivis have both vertical and side opening shutter solutions for the office. There are a variety of track types including recessed or surface mounted. For special applications or more creative projects, Waivis can heat bend your track to the chosen design. These different systems allow us to offer complete flexibility to our customers with the design of their unit.
